

THE DASHBOARD

India's Electronic Components' Production Expected to Reach $18 Billion by FY 2026

India's current production of electronic components is valued at $11 billion and expected to reach $18 billion by FY26. The rollout of 5G networks and IoT, along with initiatives like 'Digital India' and 'Smart City' projects, are driving the accelerated adoption of electronics. The overall electronics market is valued at $155 billion, with domestic production accounting for 65%.

Key Clusters/Hubs

1. NCR: Noida, Greater Noida, Gurugram
2. Tamil Nadu: Sriperumbudur
3. Andhra Pradesh: Tirupati, Kadapa
4. Maharashtra: Pune
5. Karnataka: Bengaluru, Mysore
6. Telangana: Hyderabad

(Source: www.investindia.gov.in)

India Hearables' Market Jumped by 34% in 2023 as Efficient Devices Became Affordable

India's true wireless stereo (TWS) market grew by 34% YoY in 2023, driven by ease of use, a wide range of options, and a 14% drop in the average selling price to around ₹2000. boAt led the market, while Noise and One Plus saw fastest growth. The domestic manufacturing grabbed 62% of market share, with top brands focusing on local production. Active noise cancellation based devices saw 76% growth, becoming more accessible in entry-level brands.

(Source: Counterpoint Research)

India's Online TV Shipment Rise to 44% Amid Global Decline

In India, smart TV shipments grew in Q3 2023, with the online channel's share rising to 44%. Xiaomi led the market, followed by Samsung and LG. The 81.3cm (32-inch) smart TV segment is leading the market, but its share is declining. Larger screen sizes, especially 140cm (55-inch) and above, share is growing. Globally, TV shipments dropped by 3% in 2023, totaling 223 million units. Premium TV shipments fell by 1% but increased their market share to 10%, with significant growth in China, driven by a shift towards MiniLED LCD TVs and aggressive pricing.

(Source: Counterpoint Research)