

That's true, I have a PhD in blood pressure research. How did you guess it?

You are hired only to identify and fire all unnecessary employees. Your job depends on this!

Sir, I have a great idea to make you rich. How about I become your boss and raise your salary?

Were you trying to prove Einstein wrong by attempting to drive faster than speed of light?

I told you, robots can not only work like us, they can also now quarrel like us!

Sir, I really made the invisible robot you asked for, but I am unable to find it now!
