Cellular IoT Module Shipments Jump Worldwide; China, India Lead

In Q2 2024, cellular IoT module shipments surged 11% YoY and 6% QoQ worldwide, driven by strong demand in India and China. China alone saw a 25% growth, particularly in point-of-sale systems.

Despite pricing pressures from rising Chinese manufacturers, Quectel led the market with a 36.5% share, followed by China Mobile at 9.2% and Fibocom at 7.5%. Moreover, the average selling price of 4G Cat 1 bis modules halved, enhancing cost-effectiveness.
