

I have fully stuffed it with many components, Madam. There's no room left for any errors!

I know what a current meter is. But I wanted an update on the current matters!

Nowadays, more of our customers are robots. Looks like we need to play 'techno' or 'heavy metal' music all the time!

Lost your dog, too? I am also searching for my robot dog since yesterday!

The capacitors in our circuits are exploding, Sir. Ship them to the Defence as explosives or just save them for Diwali?

For our 'Alien Finding' tender, we have received a bid from someone in the Andromeda Galaxy!
