Monitor

Ultra-slim frameless

ViewSonic has introduced an 81cm (32-inch) WQHD IPS monitor with a stylish ultra-slim frameless design. The VX3276-2K-mhd uses SuperClear IPS panel technology and offers flexible connectivity, low energy consumption and WQHD (2560x1440) resolution. By utilising 10-bit colour, it produces a colour palette of over one billion colours, resulting in richer, more vivid colour reproduction, smoother gradients, and a more natural transition between hues.

The View Mode feature includes optimised Game, Movie, Web, Text, Mono and Mac presets. Each preset offers specialised enhancements to deliver optimal viewing experience for different applications. Additionally, the monitor includes a blue light filter to eliminate eye strain.

Convertible Laptop

With glass cover and near edgeless display

Lenovo Yoga 920 has a unique limited-edition glass cover design that represents the dynamism of Yoga through simplicity, style and refinement. Another key feature is a digital pen with 4096 levels of sensitivity and feather-like touch, capable of capturing creative potential with pen-on-paper sensitivity.

The laptop comes equipped with far-field technology, enabling Cortana—a voice-activated intelligent assistant that recognises voice commands from a distance of up to four metres and in standby mode. It has a UHD IPS display with colour consistency at all viewing angles of up to 178 degrees.

The laptop is powered by the latest 8th Gen Intel quad-core U Series processor with integrated graphics and twin Thunderbolt USB-C ports, which can offer one of the fastest data transfer capabilities.

Portable BT Speaker

Get uniform sound coverage

Zebronics has rolled out a lightweight, portable speaker with fabric finish. Called Maestro, the speaker is engineered to give uniform sound coverage, deeper bass and taut treble ratio. Available in four different fabric shades of orange, grey, black and brown, it comes with a detachable stand.

You can connect to your Bluetooth-compatible device within the range of eight to ten metres and groove to your favourite beats. An impressive Call function with built-in mic allows you to attend calls from your device.

The best part is that you can insert a microSD card or connect a USB gadget to enjoy the amazing sound quality of music or movies. You can also tune into your favourite FM radio channel with the built-in FM radio system.
