

THE SHAPE OF THINGS TO COME

Ramesh Chopra

Robomart—a self-driving grocery store on wheels

Every year the Consumer Electronics Show, popularly known as CES and held at Las Vegas, USA, throws up some interesting products. This year too, the show held from 9th to 12th January introduced some novel ideas, prototypes and finished products to the nearly 180,000 visitors. Though there was too much to see, some interesting stuff that was noticed at the mega event is being mentioned here.