

SEVEN INTERESTING APPS TO USE YOUR OLD ANDROID SMARTPHONE IN DIFFERENT WAYS

Nidhi Arora

Most of us change our smartphone every two years, and others even more frequently. Often, we wonder what to do with these old smartphones? Well, your old Android phone can come handy in a lot of ways. You just need to install a few applications to make the phone multipurpose

Ways to use your old smartphone (Source: <https://mashable.com>)

Scanner. More often than not, you have the urgency to scan your documents or photographs and share these digitally. A scanner, however, might not be readily available at all times. CamScanner is one of the finest scanning apps available in Google Play Store. Apart from saving your scanned documents in your phone, it also allows you to share these across multiple devices.

Baby Monitor. Apps like Dormi and Universal Baby Monitor allow you to keep an eye on your baby at all times. Like a standard camera-based app, these apps use a camera and audio hardware to live-stream videos to the configured devices. These time-tested apps have remained a favourite among parents, who rely on these for the safety and care of their children.

Fitness Instructor. There are plenty of amazing apps available in the Android play store to design a suitable workout regime for each of us. The options range from Yoga and meditation to cardio and pilates. These apps can be paid or free depending on the features you are looking for.

Gaming Console. Converting an old Android smartphone into a gaming console is a fairly simple task. You just need to pair the phone with your television using an HDMI cable and enable the streaming on TV with the help of Google Chromecast. You may also add bluetooth controllers for a complete gaming experience.

Car GPS and Music Player. Driving definitely takes a toll on you when it takes two-three hours to reach your workplace and back home every day. Information about traffic on the route helps you to choose the most suitable path and also prepare accordingly. GPS is a life saviour in the zone. Music is what keeps the journey going. However, a lot of us refrain from choosing these two amazing options because of the added costs of GPS and music devices. Here is a way to not fall in the commercial trap: Use your old Android phone as your GPS tracker and music player.

Alarm Clock. I can't think of a single person who buys alarm clock in this digital age. All smartphones have an inbuilt alarm clock, which you may use as per your convenience. You may download related apps to set up a routine, multiply it as your scheduler, sync interesting tones and do much more.

Digital photo frame. You can use your old smartphone as a digital photo frame too. The biggest advantage is that you can change your pictures as and when you want. You can also make them more appealing by using various editing apps. EFY