

How To Choose The Best Content Distribution Network To Meet Your Business Needs

The purpose of developing a customer-centric content strategy is to keep your audience engaged across all touchpoints. However, if this content is not delivered perfectly, it needlessly makes you lose a considerable chunk of your audience. You can easily avoid this by ensuring seamless content delivery with a content distribution network (CDN) that can accommodate all of your content needs

Ashwin Rao is director at Limelight Networks