

A man with a beard and short hair, wearing a light-colored jacket, stands in a server room. He is looking towards the camera with a serious expression. The background is filled with rows of server racks, some of which have glowing green lights. In the foreground, several Positronic connectors are displayed: two blue ones with gold pins, one black one with gold pins, and one black one with silver pins.

42 Thousand Servers.
21 Megawatts of Power.
Zero Margin of Error.

When you're managing a data center that draws more power than a small city, you can't afford a meltdown. At Positronic, we build high reliability, power-efficient connectors. But our true call is to provide certainty. Rock solid, mission-critical performance upon which you can bank life and limb, family and fortune. We consider it an honor. We consider it an inviolable trust.
