

India's LTE smartphone installed base to surpass USA's in a year

According to a report by Counterpoint's Market Monitor service, India's LTE smartphone installed base crossed 150 million units in the second quarter of 2017, and will surpass USA's in the next one year.

In terms of performance during the quarter, smartphone sales in India grew by modest four per cent year-on-year. Like China, the top five brands contributed to almost 70 per cent of the total smartphone market. Chinese brands' performance remained strong and now contribute to more than half of the total smartphone shipments. Xiaomi, Vivo, Oppo and Gionee were the fastest growing smartphone brands. Four out of five mobile handsets shipped were 'manufactured in India.'

Telecom to generate three million jobs by 2018

Roll-out of 4G technology, entry of new players in the market, introduction of digital wallets, popularity of smartphones and other developments are likely to create three million job opportunities in the telecom sector by 2018, according to an ASSOCHAM-KPMG joint study. Emerging technologies such as 5G, M2M and the evolution of information and communications technology (ICT) are expected to create employment avenues for almost 870,000 individuals by 2021, adds the study.

LG Electronics launches IoT sensors for households

LG Electronics has showcased five different Internet-of-Things (IoT) sensors that can be utilised in homes, in line with the company's push to build up its latest technology. IoT is a concept in which objects are connected to the Internet and identify themselves to other devices in order to exchange necessary data
