

At-a-glance view of key industry trends that can shape the future of your business...

India Smartphone Market Registered 37% YoY Growth

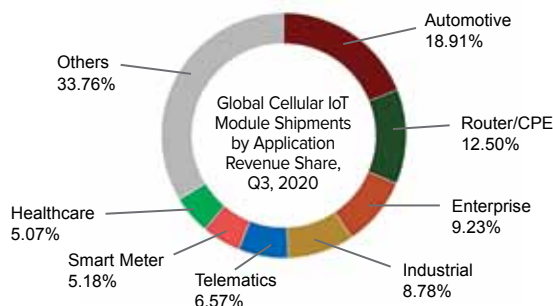

Company	Oct-20 Sell-Out Volumes	Oct-20 Market Share	Oct-19 Sell Out Volumes	Oct-19 Market Share	Year-over-Year Unit Change (Oct-20 over Oct-19)
Xiaomi	5.5	24.8%	3.9	24.7%	38.1%
Samsung	4.5	20.6%	3.2	20.0%	42.2%
Vivo	3.9	17.8%	2.9	17.9%	37.3%
Realme	3.0	13.8%	2.0	12.8%	48.2%
OPPO	2.7	12.3%	1.9	12.1%	40.2%
Others	2.4	10.7%	2.0	12.5%	18.4%
Total	22.0	100.0%	15.9	100.0%	37.9%

According to IDC India, India's smartphone market registered a massive year-over-year (YoY) growth of 37.9%. The growth was driven by multiple online sale festivals and pent up demand. The low-midrange segment (US$100-200) grew by 60% YoY. The premium segment (US$500-700) witnessed multifold growth driven by affordability schemes.

Source: IDC India Monthly City Level Sell Out Smartphone Tracker, October 2020 release

Automotive Remains #1 Consumer of Cellular IoT Modules

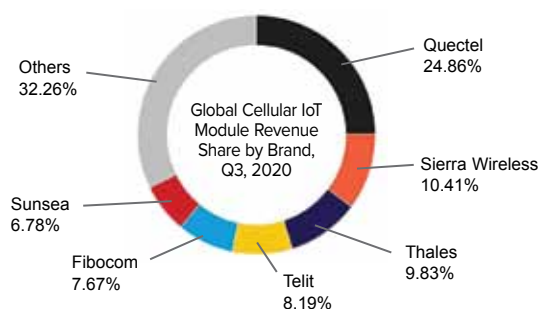

Counterpoint's latest study reveals that the higher ASP (average selling price) of automotive modules helped this segment lead the global cellular IoT module application market. Healthcare, asset tracking and telematics have been seeing some growth buoyed by COVID-19

Source: www.counterpointresearch.com

Quectel Tops Global Cellular IoT Module Revenue-wise

Quectel, Fibocom and Neoway were the only suppliers which grew their revenues on a YoY basis. Quectel revenues grew a healthy 41%, Fibocom revenues grew 34%—reveals the latest study by Counterpoint on Global Cellular IoT Modules...

Source: www.counterpointresearch.com