

High Temperature Chain Oils for Reflow Ovens

Introducing our High Temperature Chain Oils - Your Ultimate Solution for Reflow Oven Chain Lubrication!

IT-7488 is a full-synthetic, premium chain lubricant designed for extreme high-temperature applications. It provides excellent thermo-oxidative stability, excellent anti-wear protection, and is typically suitable for reflow ovens using lead free solders which operate at 300 °C.

The proprietary formulation of IT-7488 provides low volatility, low smoking, and operability over a wide temperature range.

Product Range:

Choose from our range of High Temperature Chain Oils tailored to meet your specific needs and equipment requirements.

- IT-7483: Ideal for standard reflow oven chains, operating at 250 °C
- IT-7488: For reflow oven chains, operating at 300 °C

Elevate Your Reflow Oven Performance? Contact us today to learn more about our High Temperature Chain Oils and discover how they can transform your manufacturing process. Don't let heat and wear slow you down - choose our advanced chain oils and experience the difference!

Can't Stand The Heat? Get Krytox!

Krytox synthetic industrial lubricants thrive on tough challenges, in the most unforgiving environments. Krytox® performance lubricants have become the industry standard for lubricating 'Width Adjustment screws' in the Reflow Ovens.

Krytox greases are formulated to help maximize equipment life, reduce re-lubrication intervals, and provide peace of mind. The PFPE (perfluoropolyether) based chemistry provides complete chemical inertness and non-reactive properties make it an ideal choice for Reflow Oven application. Krytox Lubricants will not oxidize due to high heat environments - so say goodbye to gummy residues & oxidative buildup from conventional lubricant technologies. Major OEM's like Heller recommend Krytox XHT BDZ.
