

Institute Accreditation For Short-term Skill Development Programmes

To train trainers and assessors for short-term skill development programmes, an institute is accredited on two fronts—institute accreditation and course accreditation. The accreditation of the institute and the courses it intends to deliver have specified parameters. The institute may affiliate courses during the accreditation process, depending on the learning needs of trainers and assessors. Institute accreditation ensures that the institute has met the requirements as per the criteria given on the Skill India portal as well as in the guidelines.
