

A dramatic mountain landscape with two hikers standing on a rocky ridge in front of large 3D letters spelling 'WHAT IF'. The hikers are wearing backpacks and are positioned between the letters 'A' and 'T' and 'T' and 'I'. The background features steep, rugged mountain peaks with patches of snow and mist or clouds hanging in the valleys.

WHAT IF

WHAT IF ANYWHERE WAS ALWAYS CONNECTED TO EVERYWHERE?

What if there were no ocean, desert, mountain or event that could ever keep us from telling our stories, sharing discoveries or asking for help? Our next-gen communications technology could keep all of us, even those in the most remote places, connected.
