cent from 2020 to 2027.

The report adds that an increase in demand for the epitaxial wafer in LED technology and the growing adoption of compound semiconductors compared to silicon-based technology are driving the growth of the global compound semiconductor market.

It adds that high cost associated with compound semiconductor components and materials is anticipated to restrain the market growth. It also says that a rise in usage in smart technologies is expected to provide new growth opportunities during the forecast period.

As per the report, "Major compound semiconductor manufacturers across the globe have halted their production activities due to disrupted supply of raw materials such as gallium and arsenide due to restrictions on mobility amid lockdown."

Defence production to reach ₹ 1,750 billion by 2025

Ministry of Defence (MoD) has formulated a draft Defence Production and Export Promotion Policy 2020 (DPEPP 2020). It aims to make India among the leading countries of the world in the defence sector, including aerospace and naval shipbuilding sectors.

The document says, "The present 'Defence Production & Export Promotion Policy (DPEPP) 2020' is positioned as Ministry of Defence's overarching guiding document to provide a focused, structured and significant thrust to defence production capabilities of the country for self-reliance and exports."

The policy has the goal of achieving a turnover of 1,750 billion rupees, including the export of 350 billion rupees in aerospace and defence goods and services by 2025. It aims to develop a dynamic, robust, and competitive defence industry, including aerospace and naval shipbuilding industry, to cater to the needs of armed forces with quality products.

The share of domestic procurement in overall defence procurement is about sixty per cent. To enhance procurement from the domestic industry, it is incumbent that procurement is doubled from the current 700 billion rupees to 1,400 billion rupees by 2025.
